BOARD WILL OPEN SCHOOL BIDS JUNE 24

May Award Contract That Day For Buckeye And Reilly Projects

First direct action toward the erection of a new school building on Buckeye ave. and a 12-room addition to Reilly school will be consummated June 24, the board of education decided Tuesday night.

The board set that date for the receipt and opening of bids at the High school building, marking the first steps in a $750,000 school expansion program voted by Salem people at the November elections.

The new nine-room grade school building will be situated at the end of Buckeye ave. and will provide grade school facilities for the northwestern section of the city.

Confer With Architect

Contractors will be asked in advertisements to furnish bids for the two separate projects June 24, board action last night determined after a conference with Paul Boucherle of Youngstown, its architect.

Following receipt of the bids the board and Boucherle will consider the offers and will try to reach a decision as to the letting the same day, if possible.

Boucherle told the board he anticipates about 20 contracting bids on the projects from inquiries already made about the work.

Additions at McKinley, Prospect and Fourth Street Schools Will Be Carried Out at Later Dates, Probably All Within the Next Three to Four Years.

First Projects Biggest

Boucherle has estimated that the first two projects will consume nearly half the total program costs.

If the bids are let on June 24 actual construction preliminaries should begin within 30 days and completion of the building projects could be made before the opening of the 1948 school term.

Henry Hurlburt, representing the Columbiana County Kennel club, discussed with the board the possibility of securing Reilly stadium for a Kennel club all-breed show on Aug. 17.

James Aldom, a member of the city softball committee, discussed the possibility of expansion of the Prospect street school softball diamond. No action was taken.

Scholarship Exams Planned By Mullins

Contestants for the four $1,000 University of Cincinnati engineering scholarships offered by Mullins Manufacturing Corp. will take preliminary examinations May 24.

This date has been established at a meeting of Trumbull and Columbiana county school officials and Mullins representatives at a dinner in Youngstown last night.

The examinations will be held in the employment offices of the Warren and Salem plants. The competition is open to young men living in Columbiana and Trumbull counties.

The scholarships make it possible for the winners to complete a five-year engineering course at no expense to their parents. Under the Mullins plan, first year expenses in the university's College of Engineering are paid. After that, students alternate eight-week school sessions with eight-week work periods at Mullins plants. During this time they gain practical experience and earn money to pay for schooling.

Scholarship winners are selected on the basis of their high school records, competitive examinations, and personal interviews.

Members of the Mullins interview committee are Harry M. Heckathorn, executive vice president; Frank M. Beauregard, manager of operations; H. O. Smith, personnel director, Salem plant, and A. D. LeMonte, director of public relations. Final selection of winners is made by University officials.

This is the second year that Mullins has awarded the scholarships.

Last year's winners are completing their first year's work at the university.

Estranged Husband Shoots Wife, Kills Pastor Father

(By Associated Press)

LIMA, May 6.—The Rev. Lewis Whitaker, 76, pastor of the Pentecostal Church of God at nearby West Newton, was shot to death in the bedroom of his home early today and his 44-year-old daughter was wounded critically.

Allen County Sheriff Ray Bailey said that Lester Nichols, 42, estranged husband of the clergyman's daughter, Nora Nichols, 44, would be questioned in connection with the shooting at Lima Memorial hospital.

Nichols, the sheriff said, was moved to Lima from McKittick hospital at Kenton where he was treated for wounds which were not serious.

Rev. Whitaker was killed by a single bullet in his left side from a .38 caliber revolver.

Aroused At 3 A. M.

Bailey said the victim's widow reported that the family was aroused when someone broke the lock off the door and entered the house at about 3 a. m. Then, she said, they heard their daughter scream: "Don't do it."

Mrs. Whitaker told the sheriff her daughter and Nichols had been separated since last fall and the family did not know he was in the state.

Nichols was to have appeared yesterday in Indiana to answer a charge of shooting with intent to kill, Bailey said. The charge was filed by Mrs. Nichols as a result of an incident last fall, the sheriff said he understood.

Mrs. Whitaker, wife of the slain minister, related that Nichols came into a bedroom where she, her husband and Mrs. Nichols were sleeping.

She said Nichols began abusing and cursing his estranged wife. Mr. Whitaker pleaded with him to stop.

Then, Mrs. Whitaker said, Nichols fired five times at his wife and shot once at Mr. Whitaker.

"Lester turned to me," she said, "and remarked:

"Don't worry, I won't bother you, mom."

The Nichols' oldest son, Melvin, came to the Whitaker home last night, had dinner with the family and begged his mother to return to live with his father, who operated a junk yard at Silver Lake, Ind.

Mrs. Nichols had been living with her parents and with another relative since she recovered from a bullet wound suffered in a family argument last August when the Nichols were living at Akron, Ind.

It was Melvin who took his father to the hospital at Kenton.

The Nichols have four other children: Donna and Ralph, who work in Kenton, and Virgie Mae and Genevieve who lived with their father at Silver Lake.

Nickles, Dimes Helped Build It Salem City Hospital Owned By Community

Salem City hospital is a community institution.

It was built with nickles and dimes, some pennies and some much larger amounts, all contributed by the people of this community.

For nearly 35 years—since its doors were opened in September, 1913—it has been owned and operated by the people of this community, which now has grown to include Columbiana, Leetonia, East Palestine, Lisbon, Washingtonville, Hanoverton, Damascus and other places served by the hospital.

KESSELING WILL BE SHOT

German Commander Convicted By British On Two Counts

VENICE, May 6.—A British military court today sentenced Field Marshal Albert Kesselring, former supreme German commander in Italy, to death by shooting after convicting him of war crimes against the Italian people.

Kesselring's counsel, Dr. Hans Latenser, had declined to ask for clemency after the verdict was announced, saying:

"He expressly asked me not to address the court any further."

The attorney said later, however, that he himself would "appeal personally against the sentence."

After announcing the verdict, the five-man court deliberated 40 minutes to reach the sentence. When Kesselring heard the words translated by the interpreter, he sat down abruptly in his chair. Then he was led from the courtroom by British military police.

Kesselring was convicted on two counts, one of them accusing him of responsibility for the Ardeatine caves massacre in which 335 Italians died in reprisal for the killing of 32 German police troops.

The second count upon which Kesselring was convicted charged him with inciting his troops to excesses in fighting partisans.

Kesselring, who was commander of all German forces on the Western front for a time in 1940 before taking command in the south, went on trial Feb. 17, accused of having ordered the reprisal killings of more than 1,000 Italians, including school children and two-year-old babies.

Small Sum By Comparison

It was a gigantic task to raise $105,000 back in those days. Today $125,000 may seem like a big amount, but considering the wealth of the community and the value of the dollar, that is not a large sum by comparison.

This is the first public appeal made for construction purposes since the hospital was opened in 1913. The amount represents the small portion of $325,000 required to construct a three-story addition extending south from the present building. The other $200,000 already has been pledged.

With excavation completed and part of the structural steel erected, the money is needed to complete the contract.

The new wing has been needed for some time, because the number of patients has more than doubled in the last ten years. The addition will provide more beds for patients, with larger and more modern facilities for the best possible treatment of those patients.

The troop is led by Robert Wicksham. Other events on the Scout calendar for May and June include:

Council Advancement committee meeting at the reservation Friday.

Charter presentations to Troop 93, East Rochester; Troop 16, Columbiana; Troop 13, Leetonia and Troop 3, Salem, on May 12, 15, 19, and 26 respectively.

A neo-naturalists group will meet at the reservation on May 18. All Scouts are invited.

287 BALLOTS IS TOTAL FOR CITY AT NOON

Republicans Dominate Voting; Contests Spur 4th Ward Balloting

Presence of the one and a half mill school tax levy on the ballot at the municipal primary election seemed to hold little interest for Salem voters today.

At least the voting by noon failed to indicate any appreciable increase in turnout as compared to similar primaries back as far as 1935.

A check-up at noon today revealed that only 287 city voters had cast ballots, the second lowest noon total ever recorded here in at least 12 years.

Little Heavier Than '45

Apparently the tax levy was not drawing a large number of voters in any of the city's precincts, although a slightly heavier vote was being recorded this year than in 1945, the last comparable primary election.

Heaviest increase in voting was apparent in the Fourth ward, where Republican voters have the opportunity to choose candidates in two instances, for mayor and for ward councilman.

There Republicans have drawn 112 votes as compared to only 22 in 1945, when there were no contests in that ward. The Democratic vote in

Speaking Of Prices

These are the days when price reductions are news. When the South Side Merchants association of Chicago agrees on a price cut, it's a matter of news the nation over. When the price of rosin drops 20 cents a hundred-weight, the news services incorporate the fact in a story labeled "price roundup."

But the national price picture shows no important downward trend. While lower prices are listed for eggs, lard, hogs, cattle, wool and copra, quotations have risen on cocoa, flour, butter, corn, oats and cotton. Also, price reductions at retail levels are news, but what of price increases at retail levels? They will be made without fanfare when the price-cutting merchants re-order to fill their shelves.

Price reductions by manufacturers are of more significance. Manufacturing as a whole earned 12.1 percent in 1946 as against 9.3 in 1945. Many corporations have cash surpluses of formidable size and by reducing prices are gambling their reserves against lower prices.

In all the poring over price indices and the reading of the economic tea leaves, there is one important corollary of the law of supply demand which must not be overlooked: The measurement of a man's productivity—what he delivers in return for what he is paid—is the inexorable scale by which ages and prices are correlated. If he produces a lot at high wages, prices will be low, compared with wages. If he loafs and is inefficient at his job—if he does less for $1.45 an hour than he did for 96 cents an hour in 1938, the products of his work must necessarily sell at a higher price. All the moral suasion and all the Newburyport plans can't blink that fact.

Don't Forget Unification

There is growing concern among high military men that army-navy unification will not be consummated this year because of the manner in which the Senate and House armed forces committees are dragging out hearings on the plan.

If anything can speed up the committees, it should be the report of Lt. Gen. LeRoy Lutes, army procurement director, which shows that from 1942 to 1945 duplication and lack of coordination in army and navy supply activities cost the nation an estimated $1,150,000,000. This does not include gasoline, oil and lubricant purchases.

Anyone who has been around installations where the army and navy operate side by side can attest to scores of instances where services were duplicated and constant difficulties were met in the use of shared facilities. Army and navy messhalls were operated side by side, although one consolidated mess would have been better and less expensive. The services were continually at odds over facilities used by one and needed by the other. Transfers of supplies were bogged down in red tape. Minor differences in specifications plagued manufacturers. Sometimes the services seemed to be warring on one another as well as the enemy.

A great deal of the delay is attributed to discussions over the wording of the bill, so that its purport is "unification," which preserves the identity of the services, rather than "merger," which would subordinate them to an overall national defense establishment. Nuances of meaning should not be so elusive that they will delay unification a year or more.

A Close One

Another indication that our legislative bodies should overhaul their parliamentary procedure is indicated by the fact that the House rules committee reported the aid-to-Greece bill by a margin of only one vote. That vote was furnished by the chairman who opposed the bill but chose to leave the final decision to the House.

If the committee had decided not to report the bill, a stiff fight on the floor would have been necessary to force it from the committee.

A similar situation occurred in the State Senate recently when a committee tried to pigeonhole the colored oleo bill. In that case the committee finally acted because of the power of public opinion stirred by press accounts.

There usually is sufficient pressure from the floor of the legislative body, from the public or sufficient wisdom among the committee members to prevent permanent pigeonholing of important bills. However, this is no excuse for a system which allows a small committee to prevent consideration of a bill by all the legislators. Parliamentary procedure should require committees to report on all bills, either favorably or unfavorably.

A Rhetorical Question

During his interview with Stalin, Harold E. Stassen elicited the following statement from the Soviets' head man: "Let us not mutually criticize our systems. Everyone has the right to follow the system he wants to maintain. We should respect the systems chosen by the people."

With those sentiments Americans agree. As evidence we can point to the fact that there is no capitalist underground in Russia. Americans do not send propagandizers to stir up trouble among the Russians (surely there must be some disaffected persons among all Russia's millions.) They would not send them if they could. We have no paper in Moscow registered as a propaganda agent for the United States. We wouldn't have one if we could.

Can the Russians say they are living up to Stalin's statement with regard to subversive activities in the United States? Or rather, can they say it and mean it?

It's always fair weather when picnics get together—and then it rains.

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

Undulant Fever Serious Menace

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

UNDULANT fever is called brucellosis by the doctor. It is one of the diseases which seem to be claiming more victims with every year. In fact, according to Dr. Thurman B. Rice of Indianapolis, it now ranks fourth among infectious diseases affecting country dwellers and may soon become first.

It is so prevalent in rural areas because it is contracted from such animals as hogs, cattle, goats and horses. It may also be passed to human beings who drink raw milk from an infected cow. For this reason, a number of cases are also found in cities and small towns which use milk that is not properly pasteurized.

Due to Swine

Dr. Rice, who is an outstanding public health authority, believes that fully 70 per cent of the cases among farm families are due to swine. Of course, it is contracted only by those who come in contact with the infected swine, such as the farmer who breathes the dust from the hog lot and gets the mud and dirt from the hogs on his feet and hands.

The patient with brucellosis is tired out and run down. He is thin and does not eat well. He has many aches and pains, particularly in the joints. The joints may be stiff and swelling of the lymph glands is commonly present. Headache, backache and, of course, fever are also present. Less often there may be such symptoms as cough, dizziness, constipation. The disease frequently becomes chronic; that is, the symptoms continue over a long period of time.

Laboratory Tests
There are a number of laboratory tests which are helpful in making a diagnosis. One is known as the agglutination test which is carried out by determining whether or not the patient's blood serum will cause the brucella germs to form into clumps.

There is also a skin test which is helpful. This is carried out by injecting into the skin a small amount of the skin testing material. If the patient has brucellosis, a red spot about the size of a quarter, forms at the point of injection.

Various forms of treatment have been tried for brucellosis. Sulfonamide drugs and penicillin apparently are not of great value although they may be slightly helpful. Streptomycin seems to give better results.

However, it would appear that vaccine treatment, particularly in the chronic cases, is the most effective way of handling this condition. The vaccine must be given over a long period of time starting with a small dose and gradually increasing in amount.

It is suggested that the vaccine be administered at least for nine months and often as long as a year. Dr. Mayor J. Moss of Indiana has treated 74 patients with the vaccine and over 90 per cent have had good to excellent results with complete relief of symptoms.

Letters to Dr. Bundesen should be addressed in care of 235 E. 45th st., New York City.

The Telephone Strike At A Glance

- 1 Before the strike the company urged that the old contract go on while a new one was bargained. Other industries did this and arrived at an agreement. That was refused. WHY?
- 2 Before the strike started, and since, the company has urged repeatedly that the wage issues be arbitrated. That was refused. WHY?
- 3 Both of these offers would have continued uninterrupted service to the public, would have permitted work to go ahead on the company's large postwar program and would have avoided a loss of $2,000,000 per month in wages to employees now on strike. IS THIS NEEDLESS STRIKE WORTH THE PRICE?
- 4 The union has stated publicly that even if wages were settled the strike will go on because of other issues.
- 5 The union also would give no assurance that, even if everything were settled to its satisfaction in Ohio, the strike would be ended as long as any of its affiliates were on strike.
- 6 The union demands are enormous; the wage increases demanded would amount to much more than the much publicized $12.00 per week and the total cost would be, on the average, over $2.00 per month per telephone. The union demanded many other things, including COMPULSORY MEMBERSHIP IN THE UNION—union shop.
- 7 In direct negotiations with the union and in meetings in co-operation with the United States Department of Labor, the company has been unable to bring these fantastic demands into a rational or reasonable formula that would be a fair basis of agreement. It is difficult to arrive at a settlement under those conditions—a settlement that would be fair to the public, fair to the employees and fair to the company.

Can there be some hidden reason that makes the union unwilling to leave the wage question to disinterested Ohio arbitrators selected by both parties? ARBITRATION WOULD BE FAIR TO THE PUBLIC, FAIR TO THE EMPLOYEES, AND FAIR TO THE COMPANY, AND WOULD END THIS STRIKE IMMEDIATELY.

THE OHIO BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY

The company sincerely appreciates the co-operation and understanding of its customers and the thousands of favorable comments which it has received. The company will continue to do everything possible to complete calls.

Second Guessing

By DON E. BEATTIE

DEPARTMENT OF INFORMATION

Ben Barrett, Salem High school football coach, secured some additional knowledge of football when he attended the Paul Brown clinic in Cleveland Friday and Saturday.

Ben, renewing acquaintances with a flock of the 850 coaches who attended, managed to line up a select group of football teams for the football preview—something new for Salem—to be held at Reilly stadium the night of Sept. 5.

Besides Salem, Ben will have Youngstown's East, Upsilon, South and Raven and Canton Township, Lisbon, East Palestine and possibly Canton Lincoln for the fans to watch in action.

The set-up will pit two teams against each other for a regulation quarter with four or five quarters of football promised for the evening. The admission price will be very low and the proceeds will be divided up among the participating schools.

DEPARTMENT OF RUMOR

One of the rumors floating around the Brown clinic Friday has news that ought to interest district football fans.

Reports have it that Athletic Director Carl Schroeder of Wittenberg, ex-Salem High football man, has hired Earl Hooker of Niles, who resigned there last season, as head grid mentor at Springfield High, replacing ex-Ohio Stater Jim McDonald.

The move hasn't been confirmed by officials at either place as yet, but it was passed along on good authority at the clinic. Schroeder did not attend, but both Hooker and McDonald were in Cleveland.

DEPT. OF CONGRATULATIONS

Fred Cope's impressive victory over Niles and Canton McKinley in the triangular meet here Friday deserves a few pats on the back for Cope and his band of tracksters and it also carries great hopes for the balance of the season.

The showing of Danny Crawford, new 440 discovery, was a pleasant surprise to Cope and all of the fans. His time, 54.3 seconds, is exceptional.

BOOTS AND HER BUDDIES

Don't count Cyril James of Youngstown Upsilon out of the Beardsman coaching job. He may very likely accept it soon.

Jerry Mosher, former head basketball coach and assistant in football at Alliance High, is now coaching both sports at Carrollton and is looking for a new post next year.

Lisbon High has an open football date Nov. 7, the week before the Salem game. . . John Cabas of Columbiana is high on the list of basketball coaching possibilities at Hamilton.

JET PILOT STILL HARD TO FIGURE FOR SATURDAY GO

Difficult Not to Rate Derby Winner First: Entries Rising

(By Associated Press)

BALTIMORE, Md., May 6—When the band strikes up "Maryland, My Maryland" at Pimlico Saturday, and the Preakness field parades postward, a lot of people will be praying for sunshine and lightning fast track.

You get that impression around old hilltop today—the idea being that some different tactics than were employed in the Kentucky derby will be necessary to keep Maine Chance Farm's Jet Pilot out of the winner's circle for the second straight Saturday.

Tom Smith, the veteran Maine Chance trainer, says it makes no difference to Jet Pilot "whether it rains or not."

But it seemed certain that with the largest Preakness field in a score of years shaping up for this $100,000 added gallop for the Black-Eyed-Susans, that Jet Pilot will have plenty of speed to run with him.

The fact that eight of the 11 Kentucky Derby contenders were expected to do in Saturday's mile and three sixteenths classic indicates their bosses weren't quite convinced that Jet Pilot could do it again.

Jet Pilot, Phalanx, King Bay, Mrs. M. E. Whitney's Bullet Proof, and William G. Helis' Cosmic Bomb arrived together yesterday from Louisville.

Although there are approximately 103,000,000 Germans in the world, only about 63,000,000 live in Germany normally.

WALKER, MULLIN LEAD BAT PARADE

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, May 6—Dixie Walker of Brooklyn, a dependable swatter with a fine 439 spring average, and Pat Mullin of Detroit, whose .425 mark indicates a return to his pre-war form after a dreary 1946 season, top the major leagues in batting after three weeks of play.

The 36-year-old Walker, who was supposed to have a tough time fighting off younger aspirants for his right field job, has collected four doubles in his 18 hits and has driven in 13 runs, only one less than New York's Johnny Mize, the National league leader.

Mullin enjoys a six-point margin in the American league over Washington's Buddy Lewis who is hitting .419, just two degrees higher than the surprising .417 mark owned by Sophomore Bob Dillinger of the St. Louis Browns.

Don Kopf and Bill Shepard took over the leadership of the Doubles jack pot tournament now being staged at the Bowling Center, when they combined scores of 659 and 625 for a 1284, including handicap.

Kopf's 659 included games of 175, 237 and 247. He rolled 223 and 233 actual pins the last two games.

Shepard checked in with 199, 203 and 223 for 625.

The tournament will end May 31.
